

Prenalen Rhinitis

Medical device

Medical device Prenalen Rhinitis is an isotonic solution of sea salt with addition of hyaluronic acid, D-panthenol and essential oils used in treatment of dry nose and rhinitis.

Prenalen Rhinitis is dedicated especially to pregnant women and breastfeeding mothers. It may be used in children above 3 years old. It attenuates excretions, soothes irritations and makes breathing easier.

Isotonic solution of sea salt-cleanses and cares for nasal mucosa, ensures its proper nourishing.

Hyaluronic acid- has adhesive properties, sticks to mucosa and combines water in epithelium cells. Thanks to this, nasal mucosa remains nourished, which is very important in the heating season and in air-conditioned spaces when the air is dry and the space is less aired.

D-panthenol- nourishes skin, soothes irritations connected with inflammation and swelling in nasal passages, regenerates mucosa and keeps the proper physiological state.

Eucalyptus and peppermint oils-work soothingly. Eucalyptus oil additionally works bactericidally.
